EAST HIGH SCHOOL
GREEN BAY
WISCONSIN

What are the sounds of East High School? Many noises are heard throughout the day; the morning announcements, classroom chatter, or a victory cheer. All sounds blend together to form the background for our learning days. Some sounds are special, known only to East High students; the ding of the module bell, the battle crys on the way to lunch, the blasts of the fanfare horns, and the singing of the Alma Mater.

The 1967 East Echoes has captured and recorded these sounds. It is our hope that in the future years this book will echo the memories of a happy and exciting year at East High School.

STUDENT LIFE

East High is not just a building.

Steph Reed applies artistic ability to Homecoming decorations.

Lee Sedlacek conducts an experiment in chemistry.

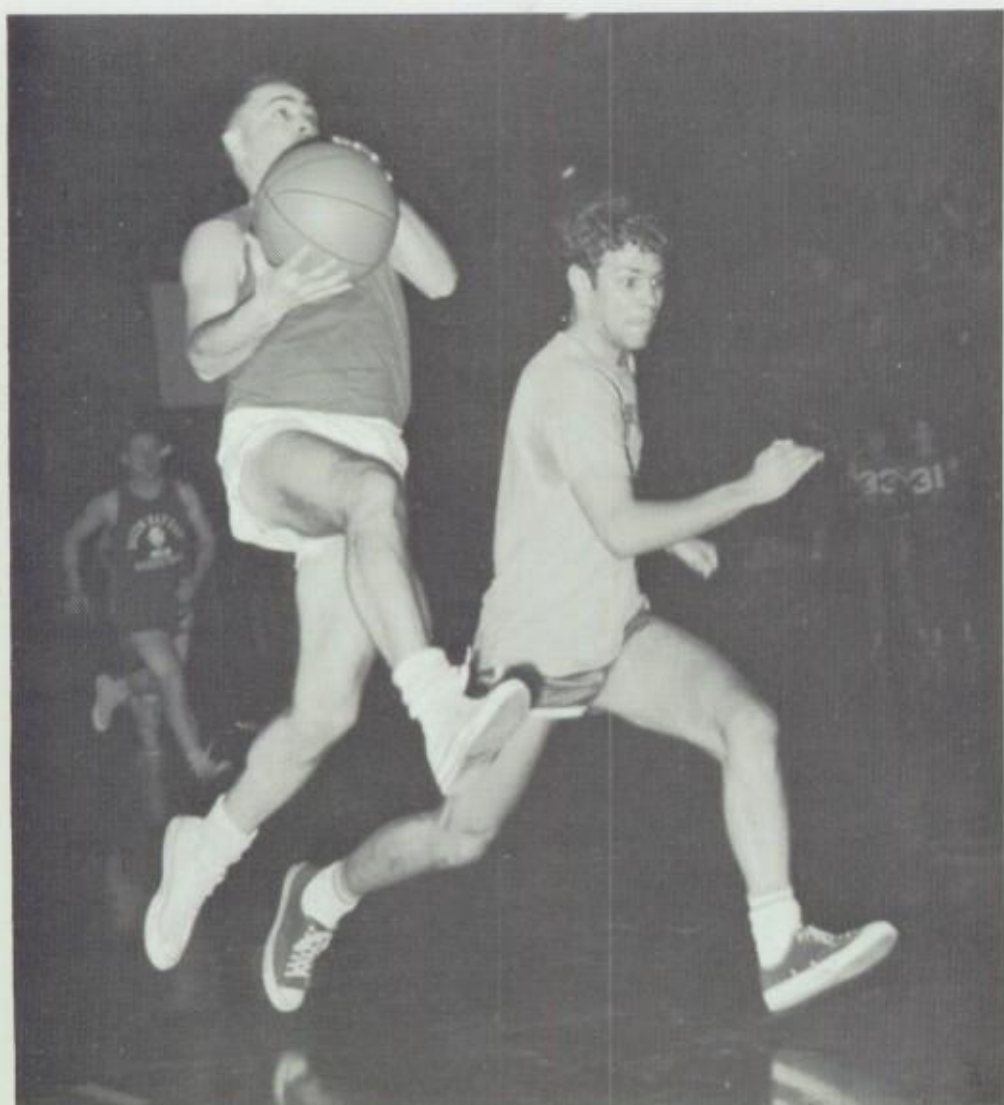

Ice skating was one of the gym activities enjoyed by Peggy Van Rens.

Liz Bray does not like shots. Cheryl Miller wonders if it's going to hurt much.

Watch it, Kip. That ball's carrying Mr. Torresani right off the floor.

East High is more than just a building. It is a place to learn and to gain experience. It is a place which prepares those who enter it for the future. But more important, East High is people. It is people who work and people who have fun.

Going to dances is fun. Just ask Terry Light.

Frantics, Floats, and Football

Granny Greg Bogard read off the list of winners.

Homecoming festivities were officially opened by the third annual Autumn Antics on Friday, September 30th, under the sponsorship of Masque and Gavel. Judges awarded prizes to Kathy Skovera, for the best individual performance; the Murray sisters for the best group act; Neil Holman and Pat O'Brien for the most "frantic antic," and to Masque and Gavel for the best performance by a school club.

This year a new activity was added to the Homecoming week-end. The sophomore, junior, and senior classes had each designed and constructed a float which was displayed and judged Saturday afternoon at the victory game against Sheboygan South. The junior class received an award for the best float.

The Student body, elated by victory, helped to establish the gaiety of the Homecoming Dance, Saturday evening. Presiding over the first social affair of the season, senior football player, Bill Hitch, and his queen, Cyndee Emick, reigned with a court of royalty: senior representatives, Jerry Miller and Nancy Anathan; junior representatives, Paul Rasmussen and Debby Taubert; and sophomore representatives, Bill Berry and Tracy Bush.

The Pep Club, under the supervision of Miss Arvis Whiting, had decorated the gym with suspended stars, a mural of cheering fans, and an exquisite throne trimmed in red and white. Couples danced to the music of the popular "Ants."

In the Red Devils' estimation, the Homecoming weekend was a most enjoyable one.

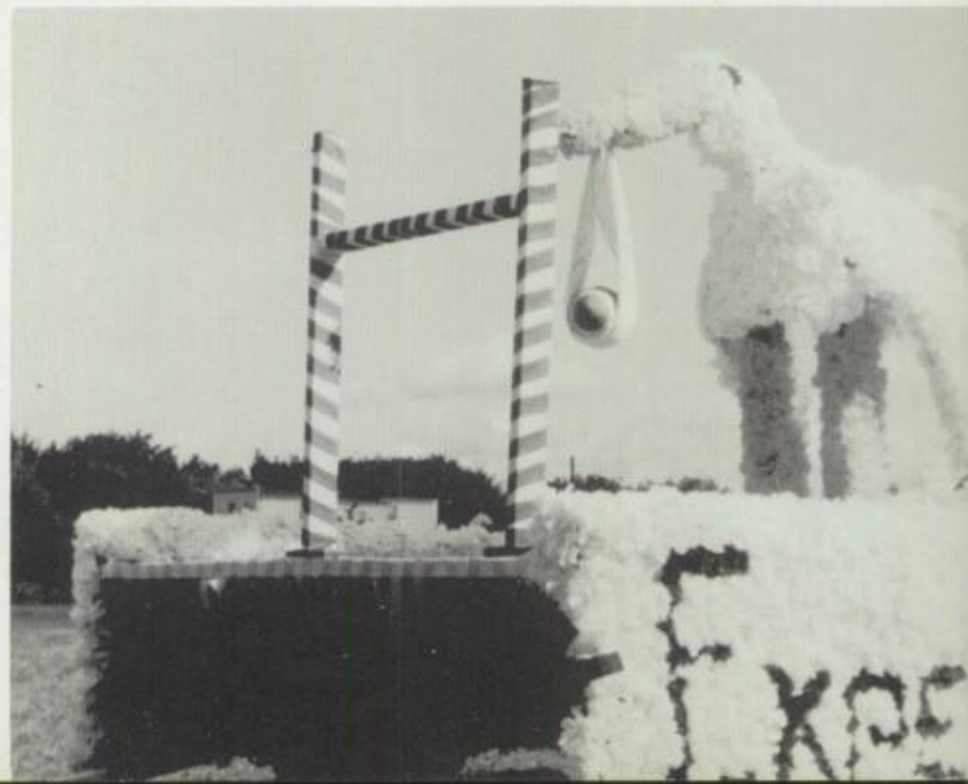

Jabbusch dealers guaranteed reliable cars.

"All my trials, soon be over" harmonized Judy Hartman and Barbara Surplice.

Cheryl Warren and Linda Cherney added the finishing touches to the junior class float "Expecting Victory."

Smiling king and queen, Bill Hitch and Cyndee Emick, reigned over Homecoming festivities.

The auditorium provided a pleasant atmosphere for noon luncheons.

It has been discovered that during their lunch hour, the students of East High like to eat. They eat everywhere; in classrooms, in the cafeteria, in the auditorium, in the halls.

Glenn (the Gypsy) Timmerman and Joel (the Fiddler) Sommer-ville charmed Kip Osen into buying some of their gypsy fortune cookies.

Bruce Cizon dined in the cafeteria.

Members of Masque and Gavel enjoyed an informal lunch in Mrs. Lison's room.

Rehearsal for Death

A mystery-comedy play-within-a-play, "Rehearsal for Death," by George Batson, was this year's underclass play. Mr. Caylor directed the production which was presented in East High's auditorium November twelfth.

A cast of six boys and five girls rehearsed after school for several weeks. Marilyn Freimuth, Rochell Alpert, Betsy Schussler, Doug Cayer, Margaret Kehl, Bruce Ratsch, John Bettinger, and Tim Seering were sophomores taking part in the presentation. Juniors Martha Larson, Steve Blakesley, and Jack Potts completed the cast. Cheryl Warren and Charles Berth were understudies.

Much credit should also be given to scenery, prop, and make-up crews which, under the chairmanship of Kathy Lemke, Sue Cushman and Kathy Riebe, helped to make this year's underclass play a success.

Much time, effort and personality of Kathy Lemke, Dick Bauer and the stage crew provided the production with a unique set.

Still life and a smoky wisp symbolized Death's presence.

The caped crusader, Doug Cayer, was revealed.

Debbie Halpern and Mr. Lawyer discussed a scene.

This year's senior class play, directed by Mr. Lawyer, entitled "If a Man Answers," was presented April 14 and 15. The cast of seventeen seniors began rehearsal several weeks before Easter vacation. Kitsy Conrad played Chantal Stacey and Kit Sorenson took the part of Gene Wright, Chantal's husband in this comedy of love and marriage. Other major characters were played by Sharlene Stoksik, Joel Neuberger, and Nancy Anathan. As student director, Debbie Halpern offered suggestions which she felt would be beneficial in the production. Credit should be given to the cast and crews who worked in the Senior Class Play of 1967.

Seven technical committees were organized to facilitate production of the senior class play. Heads of committees were Barb Foeller, publicity; Trudy Frisque, props; Kathy Clusen, costume; Eric Lammert, stage crew; Kathy Riebe, make-up.

A posed cast listened to the director's instructions.

"If A Man Answers"

Yeah! It was a pretty funny play all right.

Kit Sorenson and Kitsy Conrad went through a little hanky-panky during a rehearsal.

"Some Enchanted Evening"

"Some Enchanted Evening," the annual Junior-Senior Prom, was held April Thirteenth in the East High gym. Couples danced to the music of the Balladiers. A crepe paper ceiling, flowered wall, pond and footbridge gave the gym a festive air.

The climax of the evening was the presentation of the court and the coronation of King Tom Krouth and Queen Judy Hartman. After the crowning, the King and Queen dancing their waltz to the prom's theme song, were joined by their court of royalty: Judy Eisch, Dave Aleson; Cyndee Emick, Bill Hitch; Linda Kelly, Bob Lucas, and Linda Schulz and Peter Pfotenhauer. It was truly a night to remember.

A surprised Judy Hartman was crowned queen.

The court looked on while their king Tom Krouth was crowned.

Bonnie Halverson delayed a moment to smile for the camera-

ACADEMIC

New Administrative Heads Are

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS,
Edwin B. Olds

As East High School's new principal, Mr. Sundberg has many things to accomplish. The time between 8:00 and 8:30 is spent talking with teachers and checking over the announcements which are to be given that particular morning. After the day is well under way, he makes a tour of the building and a brief survey of the outside grounds. The remainder of the morning consists of telephone discussions with the central office staff, conferences with teachers, or conferences with department heads relative to plans or course changes for the coming year. The earlier part of the afternoon is usually taken up with seeing salesmen, teachers, or students. Usually in the afternoon he finds time to make another tour of the building which gets him away from the telephone and other office duties for awhile. During the course of the afternoon he takes time to talk with Mr. Houle about the operation of the building. Many times he sits down and considers plans for the coming year. He frequently meets with the architectural representative about the new addition to the school. His schoolday ends about 4:30, but school activities often extend into the evening.

When asked if he enjoys his job he said, "I can't think of anything I'd rather do than work with young people. Teenagers are a pretty nice group of people. They are capable of great loyalty and have much enthusiasm. I feel resentful toward adults who feel teenagers are a group of juvenile delinquents."

As the new superintendent of schools, Mr. Olds is a very busy man. His day at the office begins between 7:30 and 8:00 with early telephone calls or staff meetings. He works very closely with his secretary setting up appointments. He tries to the best of his ability to keep these appointments, but many times more important things come up. He frequently makes visits to schools to discuss problems with the principal, teachers, or parents. Much time is spent in the preparation of materials and notices which are to be sent to the Board of Education. He also attends the curriculum meetings and meetings with other city officials. Often there is architectural planning to do. This consists of looking at new school sites and checking over the plans. Throughout the day he interviews many people. It is also his duty to employ new workers. His evenings consist of a variety of things. Usually on Monday through Thursday nights, he has meetings to attend. He is either involved as a participant or goes because of school problems or school functions. Many times he must attend out-of-town meetings to discuss various staff problems. At home he has paperwork and reading which usually takes him until midnight to complete.

When asked if he enjoyed his job he said, "I think it is the most interesting and exciting job one can have if one enjoys working with people. There are never two days alike."

PRINCIPAL, Francis L. Sundberg

Faced With New Problems

Mr. Theodore Houle took over the responsibilities of vice-principal this year, a post formerly held by Mr. Sundberg, our new principal. Before coming to East High School, Mr. Houle was both principal and a teacher at Allouez School.

Originally from Ironwood, Michigan, Mr. Houle attended Northern Michigan University, where he obtained his bachelor's and master's degrees.

The job of vice-principal is one of the busiest in the school. From 8:00 detention hall in Room 144 and issuing absence slips to 4:00 detention hall, Mr. Houle has a full day. He is in charge of the actual operation of the building which includes fixing lockers, patrolling the halls, solving disciplinary problems, and even signing contracts for bands playing at East High dances.

VICE-PRINCIPAL, Theodore Houle

Mrs. Eichinger, senior guidance counselor; Mr. Zaske, sophomore guidance counselor; Mr. Astin, junior guidance counselor, Junior Varsity basketball coach, Varsity basketball assistant coach.

A new system was put into use in the guidance department of East High. Each counselor has a whole class which they keep until that class graduates. Then they pick up the new class of sophomores. This allows the guidance counselors to get to know one class very well.

Mr. Zaske, guidance counselor for the class of 1969, is new to his position. He formerly taught in the social science department. The class of 1968 is counseled by Mr. Astin and Mrs. Eichinger handled the class of 1967.

The guidance counselors have many tasks to perform to help prepare the students for the future. They help the students to decide what career they wish to pursue, and what colleges or vocational schools they need to prepare themselves for the job. The counselors handle all the records and give special tests when necessary. Another major job of the guidance counselors is to schedule all the programs of the students. In September they make the necessary program changes and in January they help plan next year's program for each individual.

For the college-bound students they tell of up-coming ACT or SAT tests and of application deadlines for the college of their choice.

Front Row: Miss Tiziani, English III, Flight co-advisor; Mrs. Hearden, English III; Mrs. Harvey, American Short Story, American Novel; Mr. Lawyer, English IV, Hi-Light and Quill and Scroll advisor; Mrs. Wandrey, American Short Story, Developmental Writing, Parent's Night Chairman; Miss Cutsinger, intern teacher, Basic Speech and Developmental Reading, American Short Story. Back Row: Mr. Otto, Department Chairman, Basic

Speech and Developmental Reading, American Novel, American Non-Fiction, Echoes Advisor; Miss Lewis, Basic Speech and Developmental Reading, American Short Story, Flight Co-Advisor; Miss Hoeffs, English III, Latin II, Student Council advisor; Mr. Moeller, English III, English IV; Mrs. Hutchinson, English IV, MacPhail advisor; Mrs. LaDue, Basic Speech and Developmental Reading, English III.

New Courses Offered in English

Only a few people are gifted with the ability to master the English language, but still we all must try. The need for people to express their opinions intelligently, to introduce new ideas, and to communicate freely with others is growing rapidly. These are possible only by first understanding the language we read, write, and speak.

In trying to help us understand our native tongue better, East High introduced a new Language-Arts curriculum to the sophomores. Students chose from a variety of semester courses including the American Novel, American Short Story, American Non-Fiction, Development Writing and Basic Speech and Developmental Reading.

Course additions for 1966-67 are Poetry, Survey of British Literature, Speech II, Drama I, Journalism, Business Communication, Expository Writing, and History Structure of the English Language.

Mr. Moeller directed some real in-class acting talent this year. The gifted actors were Ron Richardson, Harry Alsteen, Tom Melotte, Ron Christian-son, and Paul Kox.

Concentration in the language lab leads to a more fluent diction, easier translation, and a better understanding of the language.

While Languages Continue With ALM.

Communication is an important essential in today's world. Language is one means of communicating. With all of the modern facilities of today, it is not only necessary to learn our own language, but also foreign languages. The students of East High School are given the opportunity of enriching themselves in four different foreign languages. French is taught by Mr. Richard Duaime and Miss Donna Carpenter, while Miss Marcella Hoefts teaches Latin. The German classes are conducted by Mr. Bernard Schlafke and the Spanish classes by Mrs. McFadden. French, German, and Spanish classes are taught basically on the same plan; each uses the ALM series. The ALM emphasis is on oral comprehension and individual progress. Latin, too, is important because many of the other languages branch from it. No matter what the languages a student studies, he will gain a better understanding of the people of the world.

Front Row: Miss Carpenter, French I and II. Back Row: Mrs. McFadden, Spanish I, II, and III; Mr. Schlafke, German I, II, and III; Mr. Duaime, French II, III, and IV.

Experimenting, Analysing, And Reasoning

Exact measuring is necessary in the many experiments performed by the students in the chemistry classes.

Mr. Nahley, Chemistry; Mr. Adamson, Biology, Hi-Light business staff advisor; Mr. Showers, department head, Physical Science, Physics, Bi-Phy-Chem advisor; Mr. Farrell, Physical Science, Biology, Sportsmen's Club advisor; Mr. Hubbard, Biology.

The procedure of bisecting a frog in biology leads to a broader understanding of organisms and how they survive.

Science is observing, recording facts, and drawing conclusions from them. In the world of today, science plays a major role. Just about every field of interest from medicine to the space program requires some knowledge of science.

Experimenting is a very important part of science. The biology classes do experiments in dissecting frogs and working with the microscopes. Chemistry and physics classes also do a large amount of laboratory experiments as well as some complicated problems in math.

These high school science courses that are offered by East High will prepare the students of the next generation to work and live in our scientific world.

Are The Basic Elements of Math and Science

Mr. VanDomelen, Geometry, General Math, Wrestling coach; Mr. Brecht, department head, Geometry, General Math; Mr. Hostetler, General Math, Algebra II; Mr.

VanLieshout, Algebra II, Math Analysis, Football coach; Mr. Smits, General Math, Algebra I, Chess club advisor; Mr. Hietpas, General Math, Geometry.

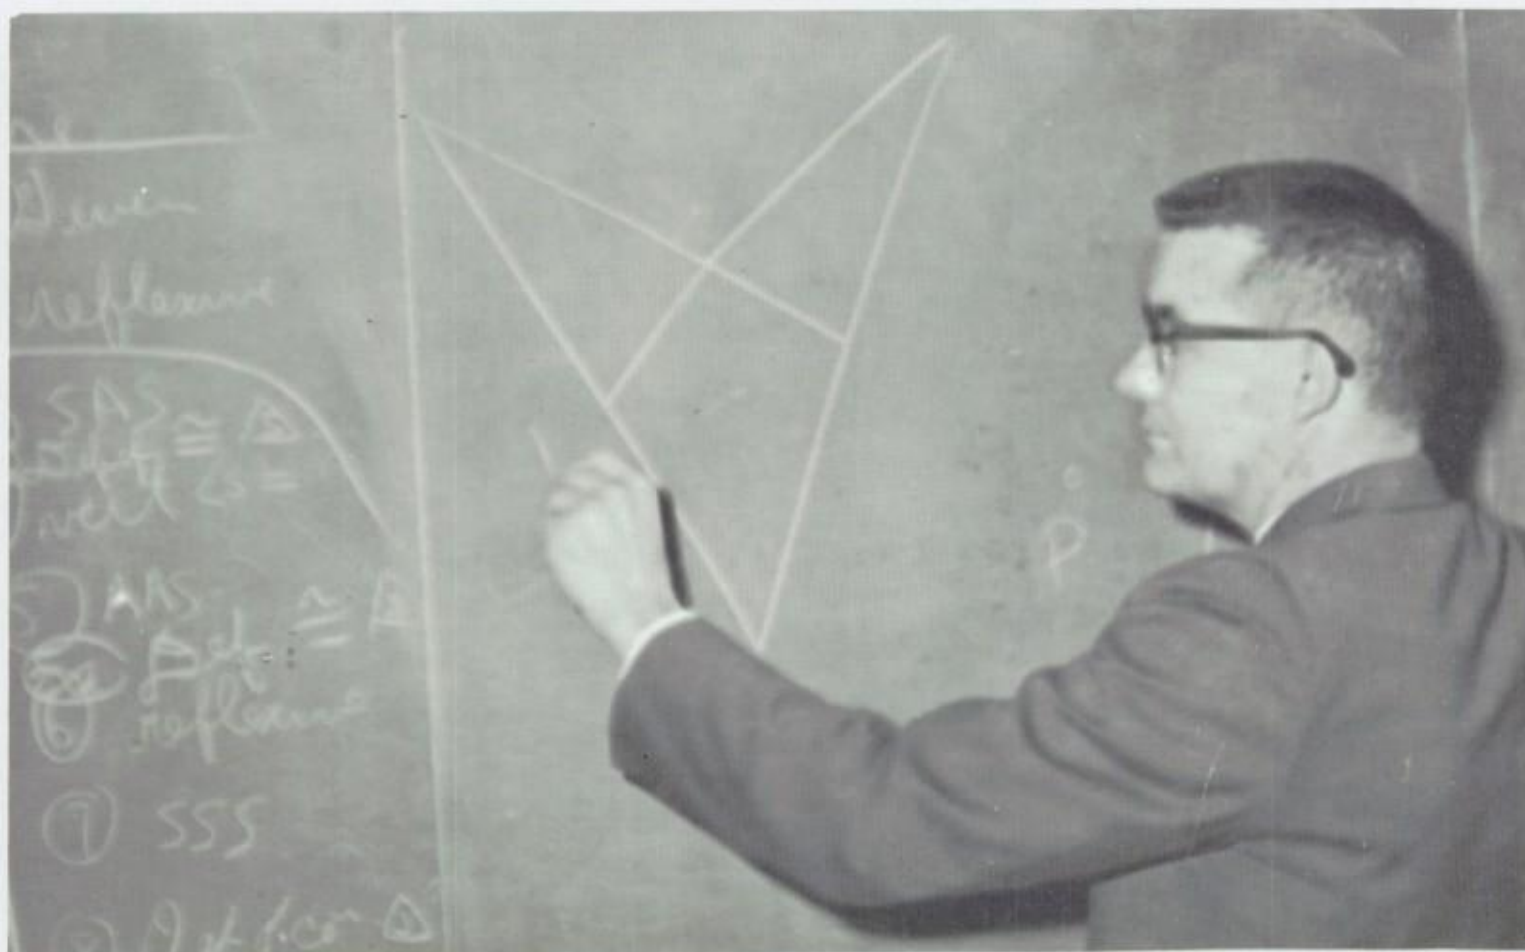

Mathematics is the language of all sciences. Today's world is centered around science. Without a good solid foundation of math, science would be of no important use.

From learning equations on how to find area and volume in general math to quadratic equations in Algebra I to constructions and proofs in geometry to logarithms in Algebra

II to functions in math analysis, the study of math can become quite complicated. But with the excellent guidance and teaching of East High's math teachers the students learn with less difficulty.

With all these different varieties of courses, East High is capable of producing well-rounded future citizens.

An important part of geometry is understanding proofs.

Front Row: Mr. Torresani, American History I (first semester), Physical Education, (second semester), Basketball Coach; Mr. Eau Claire, department head, American History II; Mr. Nigl, American History I, Sociology; Mr. Caylor, American History I, Sociology, Economics, Footlights adviser, Underclass play director; Mr. Bunnin, Sociology, Economics. Back Row:

Mr. Delforge, American History II, Political Science, Debate coach; Mr. Mueller, American History I, Russian History, Safety Committee adviser; Miss Tiziani, Psychology, Economics; Mr. Vollrath, American History I and II, Visual Aids adviser, Debate coach; Mr. Peterson, American History II, Sociology, Economics, Wrestling Coach.

Social Studies Dept. Offers Russian History

The study of world history is aided by the use of recent magazine articles.

Throughout life, each student will be expected to make his social mark in the world. East High has a large selection of social science courses for the students. A new semester course, Russian History, was offered to seniors this year. This course deals with the study of Russian czars through history and the present communistic government.

Many students are enrolled in Miss Birney's and Miss Trier's art classes. In these classes the students work on many art projects and learn as they do about the many fields of art.

Mrs. Lison's speech classes study persuasive, demonstrative, and extemporaneous speaking. The students in these classes are taught how to express themselves clearly in front of an audience. They are also given many chances to obtain experience in giving speeches.

The music department of East High consists of the chorus, the orchestra, and the band. The band helps support school spirit by playing at all of the home football and basketball games. The chorus and the band give two concerts each school year to display their achievements to the public.

Prepare Students For The Immediate Future

Home economics is designed for girls to prepare for their future lives. The course is divided into two different sections. In the cooking section the girls cook and bake a variety of goodies. Each girl has an individual project to work on in the sewing section. At the end of this course, each girl has something to show for her time and effort.

Industrial arts, said to be one of the most interesting of all classes, is headed by Mr. Bray. The various fields of industrial arts include woodworking and machine shop, in which students are taught to work with wood and metal. Mechanical drawing and architecture teach the students how to draw scale objects and how to design original constructions.

Business education prepares the students for a career in business. Such courses as bookkeeping, business law, vocational typing and shorthand, general business and clerical practice teach the many different phases of business. Many students take typing courses to help themselves in their further education.

Row I: Mr. Perrigoue, Mechanical Drawing, Woodworking I, Architectural Drawing, Carpentry; Mr. Bray, department head, Machine Shop I and II, Woodworking I, Football coach, Track coach; Row II: Mr. Finco, Metal Fabrication, Electricity; Mr. Hoff, Woodworking I and II, Mechanical Drawing.

Specialists, Clerks, Librarians, And

READING—Mr. Simon

LIBRARY—Mr. Schmiltz, intern librarian; Miss Hannon, librarian

Students, who find it hard to keep up with the rest of their class are enrolled in Miss Stoviak's and Miss Leinau's special education classes. Here the students can learn and progress at their own rate of speed. They learn the fundamentals of reading and try to better their reading comprehension. The students also learn the basics of mathematics and how to apply them.

Keeping physically fit is stressed more today than ever before. East High's physical education classes engage in many different activities. For the girls there is bowling, field hockey, basketball, volley ball, and modern dance. Some of the boys' activities are football, basketball, and bowling.

Many students who find reading hard have found help in Mr. Simon's reading classes. These classes are designed to help the slower reader read faster and comprehend what they are reading. These classes help the students to be better adjusted in their regular classes.

SPECIAL EDUCATION—Mrs. Leinau, Mrs. Stoviak

PHYSICAL EDUCATION, BOYS—Mr. Reed, Track coach; Mr. Mancheski

New Teachers Complete E.H.S. Staff

CLERKS—Miss Boucher, Library clerk; Mrs. Detry, Mrs. Garris, Office clerks

Mrs. Harris, guidance clerk

East High's library is well equipped. Students, who have a special paper to write, have the use of many different references such as encyclopedias, dictionaries, and the Reader's Guide. The library also contains a selection of books to be read for sheer enjoyment. The library has proved to be an excellent aid for most students.

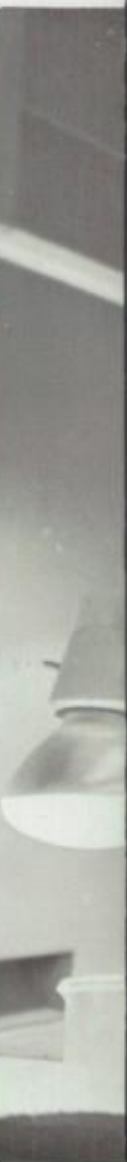

The office clerks' jobs aren't as easy as some people think. They have many duties to accomplish throughout each day. Some of these are recording attendance, answering phone calls, and determining the honor roll. However, these duties are carried out with a great deal of patience.

Each year all sophomores are required to spend six weeks in the driver education course which is taught by Mr. Jake Schaffer. During these six weeks the students learn the different parts of the automobile, and how it operates. They also learn about the city and state motor vehicle laws. They are taught how to react in case of an accident. At the end of the six weeks each student is given a test which prepares them for the test they will have to take for their temporary driving license.

DRIVER'S EDUCATION—Mr. Schaffer

NEW TEACHERS—Miss Houlehan, intern Spanish teacher; Mr. Williams, American History I; Mr. Weiss, intern English teacher.

Focus on Things

"It was founded upon a rock." Matthew VII, 25.

"Turn, turn, my wheel! 'Tis nature's plan
The child should grow into the man."

Keramos

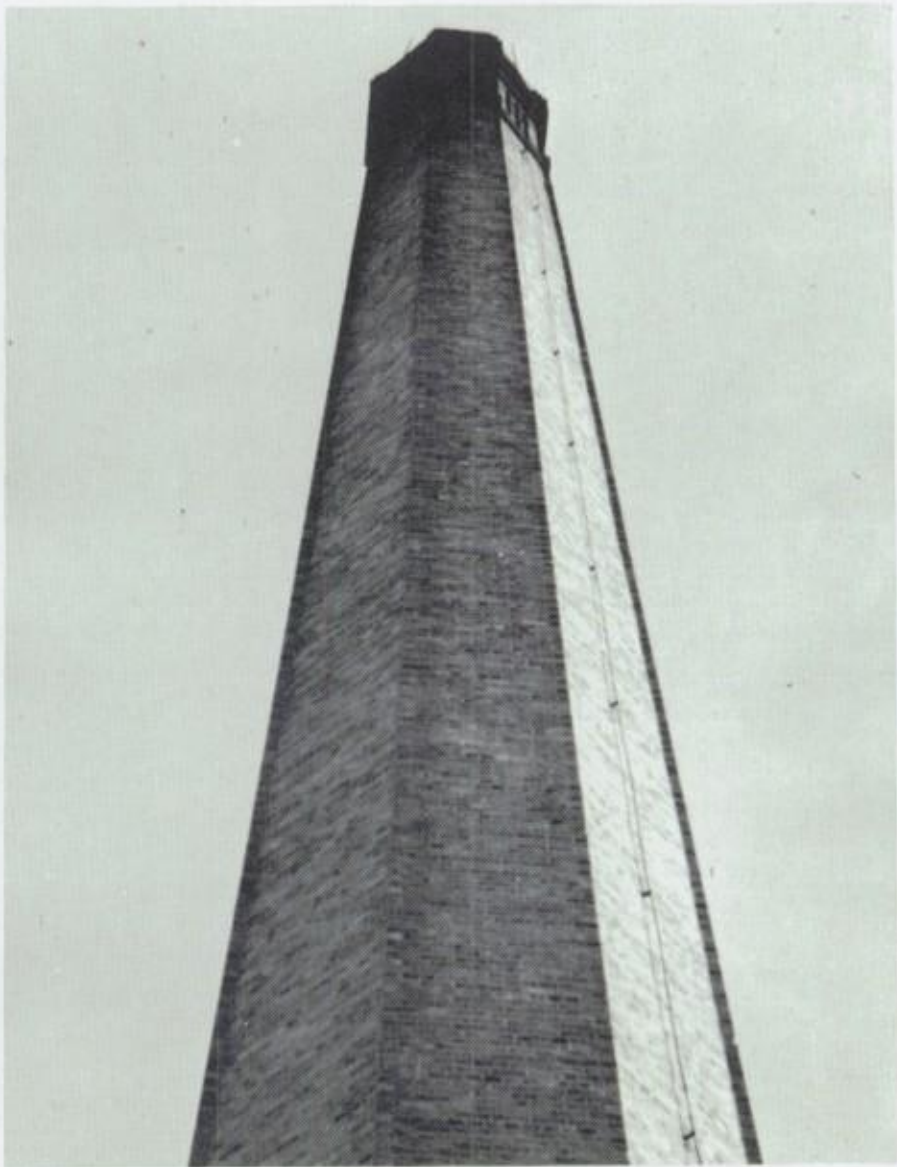

"If all the year were playing holidays
To sport would be as tedious as to work."
Shakespeare

"The Night is mother of the Day,
The Winter of the Spring,
And ever upon old Decay,
The greenest mosses cling."
John Greenleaf Whittier

"O iron nerve to true occasion true,
O fall'n at length, that towers of strength,
Which stood four-square to all the winds that blew."
Tennyson

"A good book is the best of Friends, the same today and for ever."
Martin Tupper

Injury-Ridden Devils Hobble To 1-6-1 Record

Gary Ashley (31) rounded the corner behind Don Kush's crushing block.

"Husky" Tomm Hummel bolted around an end attempting to elude a defender.

Football

The record of this year's team is no reflection of the players' talents. The Devils played the entire season with key personnel on the injured list. Yet, desire and courage championed a true team effort.

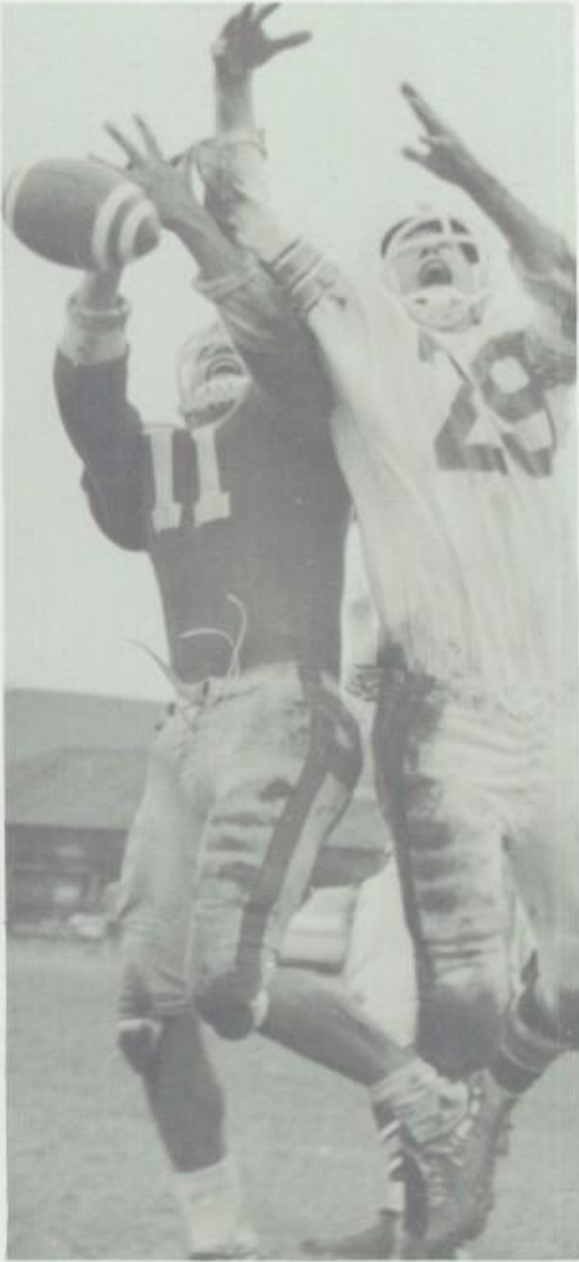

This was Coach Mancheski's last year as Devil Head Coach, and he can be as proud of this year's squad as of any of his other past teams.

While all the players deserve recognition, three have been singled out for commendation: Bill Van Beckum, Team Captain; Don Kush, Most Valuable Player; and Glenn Timmerman, Most Improved Player.

Courage And Desire Drive Team On

Jerry Miller (11) and a West defender groped for the elusive ball.

Bill Lenberg ran to daylight.

Coaches Brey, Van Lieshout, and Mancheski looked over the squad during a pre-Homecoming calisthenics drill.

Numerous Injuries Resulted

A human wave enveloped Tomm Hummel . . .

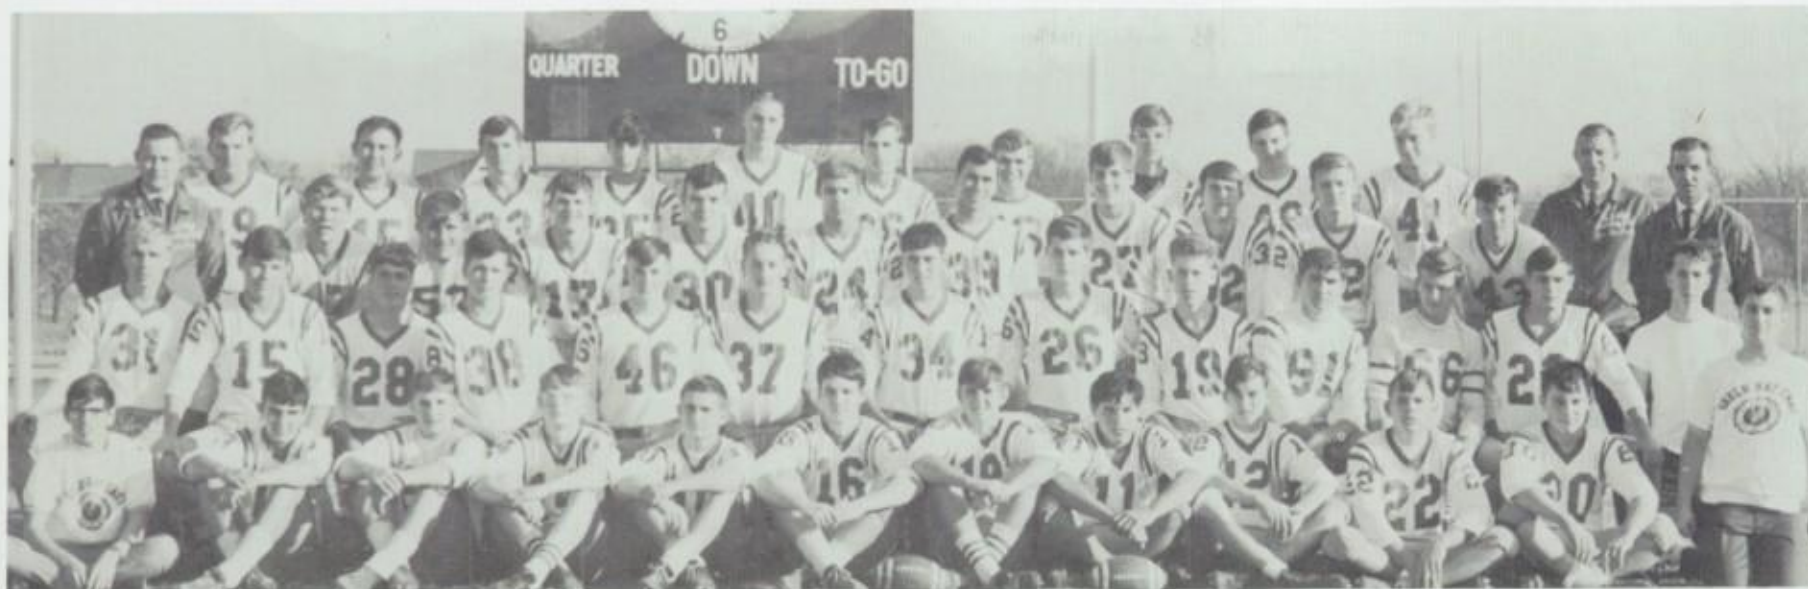

with the resulting consequences.

While lanky Don Kush threw a block at a South defender, Mark Suidzinski wheeled his way past another Redman.

Hallmarks of Our Devil Wrestling Squad

Sportsmanship plays a large role in any sport. Jerry Lochman shook hands with his opponent before an upcoming match.

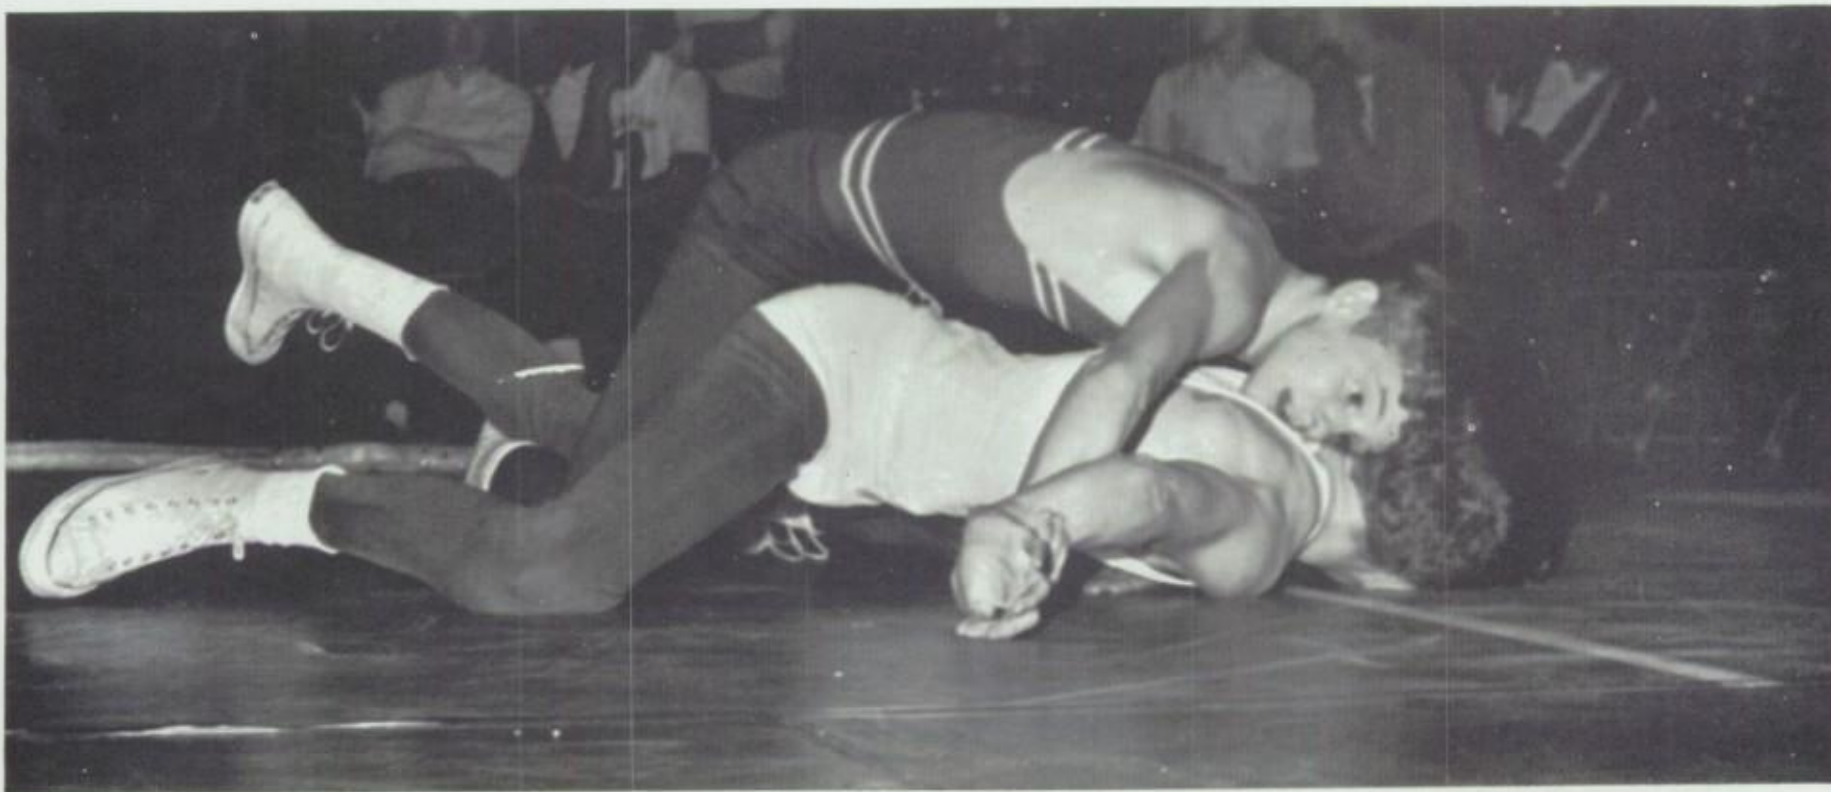

A pin was imminent for Devil grappler Dennis Feld.

Our wrestling team, young but experienced, maintained an outstanding team attitude throughout the season. Win or lose, our team never gave up. Though wrestling is an individual effort, each wrestler knew the rest of the team was supporting him. The Devil squad, under the able direction of Coach

Peterson and Van Dommelen, contained many fine individual stars, such as Dennis Feld, Jerry Lochman, and Randy Vande Veld. We can look forward to another successful wrestling team next year.

Muscling his opponent into the mat, Pat Ysebaert searched for the final, crucial hold.

Yet Victory Was Difficult at Times

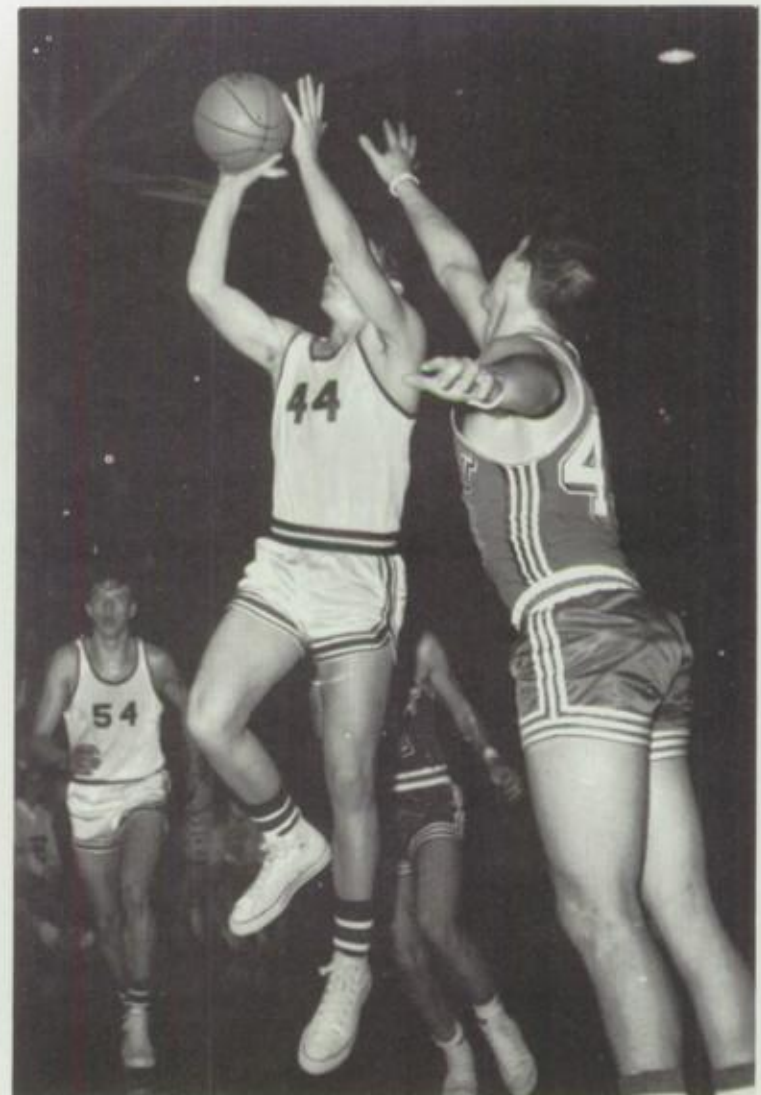

Bob Brawner's jump shots were deadly from within fifteen feet. East High had to have spare rims this year for the antics of Bob Lukas, who liked to pretend he was Wilt Chamberlain. It was a scientific fact that only a bullet could stop Luke's dunk shot.

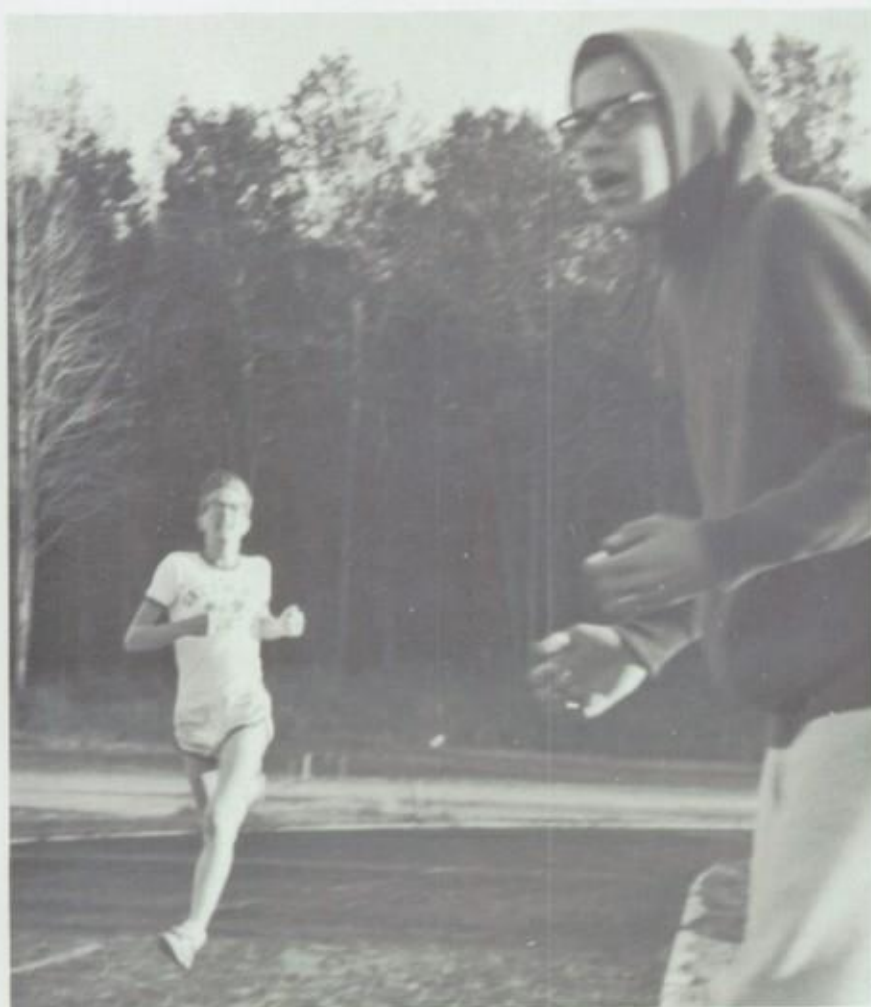

Our basketball team seemed never to jell this season, though the squad was composed of many potential super-stars. Brief flashes of brilliance, not noted by the team's record, showed up in every game, but could not be sustained. With such fine players as Bob Lukas, Bob Brawner, and John DeYoung, East could have won a majority of its games if a few "breaks" could have gone the Devil's way, but they didn't. With only four departing seniors and ten returning varsity members plus a strong J.V. squad, Coach Torresani should have a fine team next year.

Bob Brawner outmaneuvered another Wildcat as he laid up two more points.

Devil Harriers—Cross Country

Dale Van Beek sprinted in to finish a grueling race.

Cross-Country requires as much endurance and strength as track and as much practice as in any other sport. The uniqueness of cross-country lies in the fact that it pits the individual against the terrain. The runner who can best conquer the course will win the race. This year, our cross-country team, coached by Mr. Reed, participated in many meets and finished strongly in each of them. The team's good showing this year could be attributed to such fine runners as Ben Laird, Tom Mathys, Mike Wilson and others.

Coach Al Reed watched his harriers run the course.

Mark Kelly, Rick Vandertie, Cary Segall, Jeff Roseman, Chuck Ryan, John Jacob.

Time, Distance, and Competition

Springing from the blocks, our Devils realized that the start is crucial in the sprints.

Competing against yourself is half the sport of track. Jerry Miller was the would-be Olympian.

Track typifies the utmost of human physical endurance. This endurance plus the intense desire and spirit our team showed this year were the reasons for its successes. To sprint, high jump, or broad jump well, take continuous practice. Our trackmen gave their total efforts to their practice. This resulted in success and satisfaction for the whole team, as well as outstanding performances by Jerry Miller, Neil Bray, and Keith Bridenhagen.

Make Track A Thrilling Sport

Isometric exercises helped keep the Devils in top form.

Bob Lukas realized the benefits of diligent practice and peak physical condition.

Gary Jepsen's weightlifting skill aided in his conditioning for track.

Linksman Demonstrate Varied Skills

This year's golf team, including three experienced lettermen, Joel Somerville, Rick Glawe, and Mike Plog, had an excellent season. The team, which prided itself in accuracy, booming drives, and clean dialogue, over-ran many of its opponents. The experience and desire of our golf team proved hard to beat. Their many accomplishments followed the East High tradition of victory.

Golf team—Rick Glawe, Joel Somerville, Mike Plog.

Rick Glawe provided a helping mouth as Joel Somerville teed off.

Coordination, Slams, and Tennis Shoes

Our tennis team was composed of athletes like Chuck Ryan, with the tennis shoe, and a few other hardy boys who just couldn't seem to stay away from the courts.

Eric Schmitz displayed powerful form in a smashing serve.

Tennis, a sport requiring strength and delicate coordination, is a very popular sport at East. On any given day, weather permitting, you will see our Devils practicing their slam shots on the courts. In tennis every shot must be perfected, and every player must be kept in Spartan-like form. While our Devils have never beaten the Australians, their desire is not lacking.

Student government poses an inevitable problem in schools. The ideal of responsible student management of student affairs demands mature assumption of duty. East High's Student Council successfully bridges the gap between ideal and reality. Projects this year centered around preparing a booklet for distribution next fall which will familiarize new students with East.

Newly added to the branches of Student Council was the Commemorative Committee, whose duties are to commemorate famous days, such as Columbus Day, Washington's birthday, and Memorial Day through special announcements.

Safety Committee Initiates School Safety Week

The committee makes sure all safety devices are in proper working order.

Sandi Vande Voort points out the exit routes to SAFETY COMMITTEE members.

The MacPhail Scholarship Foundation Fund was established to perpetuate the memory of Lloyd E. MacPhail, teacher of American History and Student Council advisor.

Each year the Board of Trustees selects students of East High's graduating class to become recipients of MacPhail scholarships. This school year marked the 15th year of existence for the committee, and this June, the 100th scholarship to a graduating senior will be presented, bringing the total monetary awards since 1952 to $25,000.

Through student body cooperation, funds grow rapidly. The students eagerly assist with the daily noon hour candy sales and third hour bake sales on Friday. Additional funds are earned by paper drives, dances, and the valentine delivery. On April 7, Vocations' Day provided the local businessmen with an opportunity to support MacPhail and also allow students to acquaint themselves with the business world.

These funds make it possible for a student with financial need to receive a scholarship ranging in value from $200 to $400. Such growth must be attributed to total student body cooperation, and the effective direction of Mrs. Hutchinson, MacPhail's advisor.

The purpose of the Safety Committee is to promote safety in our school. With an increase in the student body size, the Committee has to strive with even greater effort to encourage safety.

Safety Week is an annual affair during which safety is promoted through vivid posters and stimulating announcements.

Under the direction of Mr. Roger Lawyer, and editor-in-chief Barb Foeller, this year's HI-LIGHT has been the most enjoyable ever. The staff managed to capture the reality of plain, simple student life, which made it interesting for everyone to read. The controversial editorials did their best to bring about several needed changes to improve student life.

The primary purpose of the EAST ECHOES is to record and preserve memories of East High School. Each picture, each page is a part of East. The staff has worked continuously throughout the year, compiling pictures and information of special events and daily life at East.

During sixth period, the staff meets to discuss completed pages and to plan out new ideas.

Through the ECHOES and HI-LIGHT BUSINESS STAFFS, funds are raised to help defray the expenses of publication. By selling ads, sponsoring dances, and other programs, business staff members help meet these costs.

Special duties of the Hi-Light Business Staff include distribution of each issue of our informative paper.

The GERMAN CLUB was organized for the purpose of informing and to further extend the knowledge of the German culture, both past and present. The members meet monthly to discuss the German language and customs. The Club's activities included a trip to the Milwaukee Folk Fair and a special dinner at Kaap's, famous for its German food.

Setting out to draw generously from the French culture, our own brand of French language enthusiasts gather monthly at the home of one of the members, to absorb the French literature, geography, history, music, and art from viewing slides and listening to guest speakers.

Some of the FRENCH CLUB activities include a Christmas party and spring picnic, which ends the club's activities for the year.

Have you a secret ambition to absorb the culture of Spain? Well, the SPANISH CLUB can satisfy that urge. At their monthly meetings the members view movies and discuss Spanish culture, which they compare with other Spanish speaking countries. This club helps satisfy and answer any questions that may arise about the country of Spain.

Annually tryouts are held for members of the student body to further increase the membership of East High's drama club, Footlights. Footlight members participate in Autumn Antics by giving an original and humorous skit. They also present several children's skits for hospitalized and orphaned children. Meetings are held at the home of one of the members, at which practices and new ideas are undertaken.

Perhaps the most rewarding product of a student's life is recognition of an accomplished task. Through Flight, East High's literary magazine, these accomplishments are brought to the attention of the public. Proper recognition reflects the productive student. Flight is composed of poetry and prose submitted by the selected members of the staff.

Promotion of better student journalism has been the concern of newspapers, journalism schools and the colleges of the nation for the past few years. More and more activity has been shown by student press association, by frequent institutes of journalism and by summer schools in news media editing and production. Long in the field is the International Quill and Scroll Society. Attention to quality productions, good ethical form, and proper handling of the news has been the aim of the Quill and Scroll efforts this year.

Masque and Gavel is a national honor society whose main objective is to further the growth of speech for students. Members participate in various plays presented throughout the year. Masque and Gavel annually sponsors Autumn Antics, and also participates in the One Act Play Festival in which several area high schools take part.

Bouncing, Bubbling East Cheerleaders

Varsity Cheerleaders: Amy Canadeo, Barb Derse, Joanne Dudkiewicz, Elaine Danelski, Terri Sant Amour, Judy Hartman, Lynn Delforge.

Lynn Delforge leaped into the air as the team took over the lead.

Amy Canadeo displayed her reactions to the team's new score.

Are The Epitome Of School Spirit

Helping to keep not only the students' spirits, but also team spirits is the cheerleaders' task. Though not always easy, especially when the team is losing, our team of cheerleaders more than adequately do their job.

The cheerleaders sponsor dances, plan buses for away games, and give pep skits to boost school spirit.

Sandi Collins showed some disapproval as a foul was called on one of the players.

Row I: Marsha La Fortune, Debby Plous. Row II: Cassandra Washburn, Mary Vanden Langenburg, Barb Destiche. Row III: Tracy Bush, Amy Van Beckum, Sandi Collins.

For The Sports Minded Student

Although we associate letters with the male athletes, girls interested in sports and physical fitness are also able to acquire letters. Through G.A.A. participation in volleyball, softball, bowling, speedball, and badminton, girls earn their letters or pins according to a point system. Each Tuesday night a vivacious group of members gather to enjoy their favorite sport.

Through the many members of Pep Club, school spirit is awakened and new spirit aroused. Pep Club members boost this spirit by presenting humorous pep skits, presenting pep assemblies, and organizing homecoming. What spirit East High has can be attributed to the Pep Club members, who make this spirit shine.

A new addition to the numerous clubs this year is the Chess Club. The Chess Club is composed of three levels; A, B, C. Each member is placed into a group according to his playing ability. To provide a stimulating challenge, the members in the lower groups challenge the members of the higher groups. Through this procedure, the Chess Club members learn new skills that provide for a better understanding of the game.

Through proper instruction and knowledge of hunting procedures, members of the Sportsmen's Club stress the importance of safety in hunting. Safety is exercised in all the club's activities; fishing, hunting, and diving. The Sportsmen's Club is a member of the National Rifle Association which promotes the proper care of firearms.

All major letter winners in all varsity sports form the backbone of the "E" Club of East High. Football, basketball, tennis, golf, and track are the major sports enjoyed throughout various seasons of the year. Physical fitness, competitive challenge, social adjustment all derive from active engagement in sports. These activities add a dimension to the formation of a better student and a future leader.

Sportsmen's Club: Top to Bottom: Jim Ahrens, John Copeland, Dave Arendt, Al Nichol, Ken Mertens.

Clubs Provide An Outlet For

Warren, Barb Vanderheyden. Row III: Jack Potts, Lauri Kerwin, Bob Schmidt.

Bi-Phy-Chem: Row I: Steve Blakesley, Jim Rose, Dan Buehrer, John Copeland, Peter Pagel. Row II: Glenn Marceil, Eric Grossman, Tony Adams, Stan Buehrer, Greg Bogard, Jack Potts, Andy Haines.

Various Student Interests

F.T.A.: Row I: Connie Buelow, Marsha Cohodas, Janis Mielke, Barb Aleson, Joanne Dudkiewicz, Carols Poels, Sharon Beckman, Jean Masse, Cyndee Emick, Barb Surplice, Mary Erdman, Jackie Aerts. Row II: Kathy Charles, Debbie Van Hoosen, Steph Reed, Patty Hannon, Marilyn Basten, Sue Basten, Kathy Herlache, Deb Rosenberg, Sandy Stoksik.

A debate is probably one of man's most enlightened forms of argument. Just as there are two sides to every question, there are two sides to every debate. Two teams represent both sides of the proposition, the affirmative and the negative. The affirmative presents a certain plan of action and proceeds to show how this plan would be instituted. The negative shows the impracticality of the affirmative plan and how it would be unacceptable. A good team must possess complete knowledge of the subject debated, which can prove harder than most realize. No matter what subject is discussed, each side must be ready to enact any remedy to fit the situation.

Bi-Phy-Chem is for students who want to take an active part in science-related projects or experiments. Bi-Phy-Chem makes it possible for students to do individual research in fields of their particular interests, under expert guidance and proper working facilities.

Members, on occasion, view films or slides, but most activities are in the area of student reports. For their achievements, members of Bi-Phy-Chem receive pins.

If you are interested in nursing as a possible career, then Future Nurses of America (F.N.A.) might help you develop these interests. F.N.A. members tour hospitals in various cities. Through lectures and work with hospital patients, the members are able to gain an invaluable experience which may someday prove to be a helpful asset. Through Future Nurses of America, the Candy Strippers were organized.

F.T.A. provides a glimpse into the future for any girl who is interested in a teaching career. The members of F.T.A. are able to observe teaching procedures through the cooperation of local schools, who make it possible for the girls to sit in on classes and observe teaching skills in action.

During monthly meetings at members homes, activities are planned and discussions are held. F.T.A. sponsored bake-sales and a dance to defray the Club's expenses.

Monitors, Assistants, and Crews Keep

Sound Crew: Glenn Marceil, Jim Bonjean.

Guidance: Top to Bottom: Amy Canadeo, Julie Sitzman, Linda Kelley, Nancy Zeitzuis, Jane Loritz.

Through their musical harmony heard every morning, SOUND CREW members Glenn Marceil and Jim Bonjean inform the students of the on-coming announcements. They control the P. A. System and make any necessary adjustments to accommodate announcers.

Business-education students interested in developing good working habits that help prepare them for the business world, gain helpful experience and training through assisting in the main and guidance offices and as Teachers Assistants. These girls not only lighten the load for those they help, but they also brighten the day with their warm, and friendly personalities.

Office: Row I: Joan Bradley, Sharon Tursky, Linda Georgie.
Row II: Becky Bishop, Kathy Knapp.

Twice every year the MAKEUP CREW undergoes a difficult and time consuming task. They must prepare the cast of the underclass and senior class participants. Makeup must be applied to suit the role that the person portrays. The results of their efforts were seen at the annual presentation of these plays.

Our library is a vast storehouse of knowledge containing every kind of information conceivable. The invaluable resources within these walls can be used to their fullest capacities through the proper understanding and familiarity of library facilities.

Through many hours spent of their time, the LIBRARY ASSISTANTS adapt themselves to the systems and resources of the library. Checking, shelving, and repairing books has helped in making them better aware of the advantages our library provides.

East High Functing At Full Speed

Huetter, D. Derus, C. Manthey, E. Hansen.

East High band director, Norm Hinkley, paused during a presentation to watch the game.

This year's music makers, under the direction of Mr. Norm Hinkley, have achieved new prestige in the eyes of their audiences. The students particularly appreciated the modernization of the band this year. It is not at all uncommon to hear them playing "Winchester Cathedral" or other popular songs. The band members themselves can be proud of their lively performances and refreshing numbers.

The success of the band results from Mr. Hinkley's superb organization and the revived spirit of the members.

The East High Stage Band, under the direction of Mr. Norm Hinkley, produced unequalled entertainment for the students of East through its concerts, and participation in school programs. The Stage Band, perhaps more than any other unit, instilled in the students the spirit of E.H.S. through its rousing performances.

Orchestra And Chorus Provide

Entertainment in many forms was provided by East High choral groups this year. Under the direction of Mr. Seering, the various choral members participated in a number of programs, capturing their audience with each performance.

A spring auditorium program, the annual Spring Concert, provided an effective and appropriate finale to a very successful and entertaining season of song.

Orchestra: Piano: B. Allard. Row I: A. Galbraith, S. Kuharski. Row II: D. Jaeger, L. Larson, C. Truckey, A. Berk, T. Sant Amour, J. Liesch. Row III: D. Cayer, L. Cherney, T. Berceau. Row IV: L. As members of the younger generation, we are surrounded by the complexities and conflicts of our rapidly changing world. Thoughts of Viet Nam, Communism, and cries of God Is Dead resound turbulently through our minds. Somewhat bewildered, we have retreated into our own world of mod clothes, rock-and-roll, and glass packs. Soon, another generation will take our place and we will be forced to emerge from our sheltered environment into the real world—a world we do not understand. We must prepare now; we must increase our knowledge; we must mature. The world is calling us and we must be ready to answer.
